

PROMISE

CAMP
ALEXANDER
MACK

2023 Annual Report

In Acts 2, the Holy Spirit comes to empower the followers of Jesus so they can spread the Good News of God's love. This fulfilled the promise Jesus made at the end of the Gospel of Luke. Once empowered, the followers begin sharing a new way of seeing God—through the life of His son. They become the bearers of the promise to all people in all places and all circumstances.

Among the many goals of Camp Mack is to proclaim the promise of the Gospel and make it real in the lives of those who are touched by this ministry. As we continue to hear and understand God's call to us more clearly, we have looked toward the future to better serve our campers and guests.

Immediate goals include:

- Develop an operational model that provides more opportunities to reach campers who are not connected to a church.
- Partner with churches for congregational and camp growth.
- Build strong community connections to increase awareness and adoption of Camp Mack
- Finalize a Master Facility Plan that addresses future growth needs.

Long term goals include:

- Increase attendance at summer camp to 600.
- Secure financial stability that will sustain camp programs through the next century.
- Address accessibility issues regarding guests with mental and physical disabilities.

Just as the community of disciples and followers received the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, we hope all our community will receive the promise of God's love with great joy, inspiring them to share that promise through the ministry of Camp Mack.

PROMISE

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

“This promise is for you, your children, and for all who are far away—as many as the Lord our God invites.”

Acts 2:39 (CEB)

Dear Friends of Camp Mack,

The word “promise” has two meanings. The first is an assurance or a vow to action. The second is an expectation for the future. Both are meaningful for our mission at Camp Mack.

We have promised to focus on our mission and to be clear in our communications. Camp Mack has also promised to be transparent about our operations and finances. Through this report, our regular monthly email news, and a policy of open records, we provide you opportunities to see the work we do, and how we do it.

There is also promise in the future that lies ahead. Camping ministry has consistently been in the forefront of change and growth in the life of the church. By making new connections in our community and providing services to a new generation of campers, we can take hold of that promise to provide incredible experiences and support to our churches, so ministry can continue to flourish.

Camp Mack is a shared ministry that requires volunteers, donors, staff, and partners to be effective. It is not possible without you. Thank you for your part in the success of 2023. We continue to ask for your support of this important work through prayer and generous gifts of time and finances. Each year is the seed bed for memories, connections, community, and developing faith.

In Christ’s love,

Gene Hollenberg, Executive Director

Camp Alexander Mack provides a sanctuary where all people are welcomed to connect with God, experience creation, and build Christian community

FROM THE INDIANA CAMP BOARD CHAIR

At a recent Christian Camp and Conference Association webinar, I heard this definition of a board: “The Board is a spiritual community called by God to steward a piece of God’s kingdom work here on earth.” I am grateful to be given an opportunity to serve at Camp Mack in this way. It is truly a place doing God’s kingdom work, providing a peaceful sanctuary where all persons are welcomed to connect with God and one another in the beauty of creation.

The Indiana Camp Board benefits greatly from the deep commitment and experience of past and current members. In the past year, we captured some of this working knowledge through a deliberate review of the orientation, education, and policies of board members. We helped adjust the budget to make sure spending does not exceed revenue, and we supported the excellent work of the staff to adopt the Discrimination and Harassment Statement. As a board, we continue to balance the tasks of looking inward and outward, weighing the needs of increasingly diverse constituents with evaluating the changes necessary to minister to others in our communities and beyond. Radio ads continue to connect us to more people. The outdoor education programming, after some setbacks, is filling a need in both the public schools and the homeschool community. A review of the demographics of our constituents revealed that 82% of our campers and guests are partners who rent our facilities and some programs. Additionally, it is estimated that 80% of campers and guests are not members of the Church of the Brethren.

I am filled with gratitude for the myriad ways people give to Camp Mack. People give time in the kitchen, in the office, on the grounds in buildings or maintenance. I’ll bet you can name even more. If you haven’t had a chance to visit or volunteer lately, there are always new ways to experience the sanctuary at Camp Mack. With so many things happening, you may be asked to give some extra time serving in leadership, on a committee, or in sharing your ideas or expertise for new projects. You may be asked to help organize an event for the 100th anniversary, help weed the peace garden, offer prayers for a friend in need, or participate in some boisterous singing around a campfire. Whatever way you experience the community at Camp Mack, if you’re asking yourself if you have something to offer, the answer is, “YES! You do!”

Over spring break, our family had the opportunity to visit some historical sites significant to the Civil Rights movement in Birmingham and Montgomery, Alabama. Throughout, I was reminded how the way of faithful non-violence (often met with violent opposition) was instrumental in showing the world a better way. I believe the way of peace is needed just as much now as it was then, and Camp Mack is poised to provide for that need, by offering that peace to all who visit.

Kimberly Gray, 2024 Chair of the Indiana Camp Board

CELEBRATIONS

With the help of our financial supporters and volunteers, 2023 was an exciting year full of accomplishments. We thank God for so many wonderful gifts, especially the people who keep this ministry strong.

In 2023 we:

- Completed planned renovations to Ulrich Lodge
- Acquired more responsive registration and database software
- Increased usage of building rental capacity
- Continued growth in personal, family, and group retreats
- Developed a list of major improvements to be included in a new Master Plan
- Made improvements to many buildings and structures, including new roofs, stonework, and remodeling
- Secured a $621,000 Lilly Endowment, Inc. grant to fund outdoor education programs
- Created a new business plan that reaches out to grow our community
- Began a school break day camp program

PLANTING THE FUTURE CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

The Planting the Future capital campaign began in 2019 with the goal of raising 1.1 million dollars to establish a strong foundation for the future through strategic planning, the development of an outdoor education program, and modernization of our facilities.

Strategic planning and outdoor education have become core elements of the Camp Mack program. By the end of 2021, funds had been used to build the Esther and John Hamer Health Center and the Peace Garden, a favorite stop for many of our guests.

In August of 2022, we celebrated nearing the end with a barbeque meal on the Ulrich House patio. The final goal was reached three months later.

In the fall of 2022, volunteers, under the leadership of volunteer construction manager Steve Keim, began the transformation of Ulrich House into a comfortable and accessible adult retreat center. Early in 2023, Mike Kauffman and Curt Rowland supervised the final touches, turning Ulrich House into Ulrich Lodge.

All told, the project gave the interior a facelift, completed ADA restrooms, built an elevator for additional accessibility, updated heating with added air conditioning, installed a new roof, and provided new furnishings including the elimination of all bunk beds. This beautiful, modernized building maintains the charm of Camp Mack while serving adults comfortably. The building was dedicated on August 20, 2023.

Remaining funds are being used for signage, design consultants for the master facility plan, and a contribution to the Sarah Major carpet fund.

We thank all who participated in this milestone capital campaign that will truly impact the sanctuary experience for generations of campers and guests.

Our Philosophy

BELIEVING that the quiet beauty of a natural setting creates a strong sense of the reality of God, we will develop this center in ways that will enhance its use as an environment in which persons are moved into a closer relationship with our God and all of creation.

BELIEVING in our deep connections to all living things, we will share that belief so that through our programs and experiential opportunities persons will be challenged to take added responsibility for the human and natural world in which God has placed them.

BELIEVING that the closeness of shared life at this set apart place can provide a model for what it means to be the body of Christ, we will seek to involve leaders who themselves earnestly seek to know and share God's love and are able to shape experiences in which that love can be reality for others.

BELIEVING in the God-gifted value of each person, we will seek ways to help persons value themselves and to discover and develop their own skills. We will provide quality Christian education, including serious Bible study, encouraging them to hear the call to a deepened faith and discipleship to Jesus Christ.

BELIEVING in the shared ministry of the church, we will nurture strong relationships with congregations, districts, the denomination, and ecumenical groups. We will also seek to help persons of all ages understand and internalize the values of the church, attempting to strengthen their ties to local churches and encouraging a greater sense of identity with the Church of the Brethren and believers everywhere.

Mission: Camp Alexander Mack provides a sanctuary where all people are welcomed to connect with God, experience creation, and build Christian community.

Vision: To be a sanctuary where all who are served find a safe and inclusive environment where they can learn of Christ, renew their spirit, and experience God.
